

From the Philadelphia Business Journal:

<https://www.bizjournals.com/philadelphia/news/2018/11/19/cbre-workplace360-two-liberty-place-center-city.html>

Click to Print Now

Cool Offices: Real estate company opens new Center City space

Nov 19, 2018, 7:51am EST

CBRE opened in September an office that is part of its Workplace360 initiative – its goal is to promote flexibility, mobility and productivity for its employees. The office is completely paperless and full of open space and big windows.

"In the short time the new office has been open, we have already seen a tremendous sense of collaboration and connectivity among our employees," said Robert Walters, Executive Managing Director, CBRE.

"Many of our clients who have had the chance to visit have been equally impressed with the environment and the technology available throughout the space. As evidenced in our Workplace360 office in Radnor, this new way of working is also a formidable differentiator in recruiting and retaining industry-leading talent."

Address: 50 S. 16th Street, #3000 Philadelphia, PA 19102

Employees: Approximately 60

Building Name: Two Liberty Place

Office Opened: 9/10/18

Office Suite Size: 15,000-square-feet

Floors: One

Chief Architect: Gensler

General Contractor: C. Erickson and Sons, Inc.

Management Company: CBRE Project Management

MEP Design: Syska Hennessy Group

Cabling: Enterprise Cable Group

AV: Whitlock

Want to show off your office? We recently asked a variety of local companies to submit what they believed were "cool" office spaces. Send the Philadelphia Business Journal high-resolution photographs and information about your space at clefton@bizjournals.com.

Clara Lefton

Special Projects

Producer

*Philadelphia Business
Journal*

