Villanova >> Villanova University's hotel and conference facility, The Inn at Villanova University, began welcoming guests July 1. The Inn blends the historic charm of Villanova with the amenities of a modern hotel and meeting/event venue.

The Villanova Conference Center closed in November 2016 and has undergone a transformative renovation to become The Inn at Villanova University. Everything from infrastructure to amenities have been redone. The Inn now offers gracious hospitality, contemporary technology and an exceptional experience in its:

- 56 guest rooms – 29 rooms with king size beds, 24 rooms with double queens, one suite with an adjacent sitting room, and two fully ADA accessible rooms
- 14 meeting rooms varying from 400 to 1,600 square feet that can accommodate eight to 130 guests
- A nearly 5,000 square foot ballroom for up to 325 guests
- 32 acre immaculately landscaped property and gardens on the grounds of the former Montrose Estate

“We’ve created a versatile venue space that offers a new vision of hospitality for Villanovans, academic and business leaders, and the surrounding community,” said The Inn at Villanova University Director Paul Smits. “And we’ve given it a welcoming, homey feel with friendly service and personal touches reminiscent of a bed and breakfast.”

Villanova University is a community in which students learn to think critically, act compassionately and succeed while serving others. Staff at The Inn are charged with upholding these Villanova standards while delivering excellent customer service. Guests can expect service on par with AAA four-diamond establishments including a high degree of hospitality and attention to detail.
